

INSPECTION AND FIELD SERVICE

Many companies are now reducing their maintenance staff and relying on outside vendors to inspect or repair their water filtration equipment. Trust OVIVO's experienced team of qualified field service experts to provide thorough inspections and repairs to optimize the life and performance of your equipment.

With the OVIVO® / Brackett Green® raking and filtering systems being first line on removal of debris from bar screens and pumps, Ovivo offers Inspections and Field Service to retain the value you have already invested in your equipment.

INSPECTIONS

OVIVO has a highly qualified field service group that commission, repair and inspect the OVIVO supplied equipment.

- Inspections include a detailed report on the health condition of the equipment that is provided to the customer for review and discussion with the field service experts while on site or later over the phone, if needed.
- Inspection covers equipment controls and instrumentation including system automation, and reviews customers' inventory of spare parts to ensure minimal downtime and reliable plant operations.
- The inspection report provides pertinent equipment information and enabling customers to budget accordingly to best fit their needs.
- Field service experts can also address potential upgrades to existing equipment that will improve equipment function and operation.

FIELD SERVICE REPAIRS

- OVIVO can conduct most field repairs but, in cases where major repairs are needed a field service rep can supervise these repairs if contractor licenses are required with a Construction/Customer Maintenance crew.
- OVIVO's complete repairs and rebuilds provide customers with the best value, minimizing downtime, lowering plant maintenance costs and extending the service years of existing equipment.
